Wrangell Island Takes Toll

Three Who Left for Siberia Believed Lost in Snowy Wastes

Following is the third installment of the exclusive personal story of Harold Noice, commander of the Wrangell Island relief expedition, who returned to Nome, Alaska, August 31, from his dash into the Arctic in the hope of relieving four white men and an Eskimo woman marooned there since the fall of 1921.

NOME (Alaska) Sept. 6.—My feelings may probably be better imagined than described as the Donaldson groped slowly through the fog into Doubtful Harbor and I saw the shadow form of a human being move down the beach to the water's edge. Were we in time, after all? Certainly some of us still survived on the island and soon we should know whether all had survived.

As we drew nearer I could make out distinctly the form of a woman and assumed that it was Ada Blackjack, the seamstress of the expedition. We steered as close inshore as we could and dropped anchor. I jumped into the skiff and paddled ashore. As we neared the beach Ada started walking out into the shallow water to meet us.

I sprang out and shook her hand. For a moment neither of us spoke, then she said: "Where is Crawford and Gail and Maurie?" and when I told her that I had just arrived from Nome and expected to find them all on Wrangell Island she choked back a sob and said: "There is nobody here but me; I am all alone. Knight, he died on June 22 in my arms and I was frightened to let him go. I said: 'I want to go back to my mother. Will you take me back to Nome?'"

And when I assured her that most certainly we would a bright light came into her eyes and she, the strange, dazed expression left her face. She just stood and looked at me. Then she tottered forward, and as I caught her in my arms she commenced to sob like a little girl.

TELLS SAD STORY
I lifted her into the skiff, brought her aboard the Donaldson and took her down into my cabin, where I gave her a cup of hot coffee. That revived her a bit and after she had eaten some bread she told me the following story:

HUGE BODY OF RADIUM DISCOVERED

Institute Says Find Will Bring Cure Within Reach of the Masses

NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Discovery in Forghana, of what is reported as probably the world's largest deposit of radium, announced in Petrograd today by the Radium Institute, will prove a "tremendous addition to science and a boon to the masses." It was declared at the offices of the New York Radium Institute today.

Belief was expressed that the price of radium, as a result of this discovery, might be brought to the point where it could be put into every hospital in the land and made available to the masses. More than thirty states, it was said, have no supply of radium and it was estimated that the element is not used in more than 10 per cent of the cancer cases it might cure.

MEMORIAL IN NOVEMBER IS MARION PLAN

Mrs Harding Approves of Public Tribute on Husband's Birthday

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
MARION (O.) Sept. 6.—With the arrival here today of Mrs. Warren G. Harding, widow of President Harding, it was announced by Hoke W. Donithen, head of the Marion Civic Association, that tentative plans had been made for a great public memorial here November 2, which would have been Mr. Harding's fifty-eighth birthday. The plan for the memorial was approved by Mrs. Harding.

As yet, Donithen said no definite arrangements had been made for the memorial, because it was thought best first to get Mrs. Harding's consent before proceeding with comprehensive plans. The memorial service will be conducted at the Chatauqua pavilion, where July 22, 1920, Mrs. Harding was officially notified of his nomination for the Presidency by the Chicago convention.

Mrs. Harding reached Marion at 10:45 a.m. from Washington.

AMERICA TO HASTEN AID

Coolidge Urging Quick Action

Help for Japan Upon Vast Scale Is Promised by His Efforts

Red Cross Removes Limit to $5,250,000 Quota to be Raised

WASHINGTON, Sept. 6.—AM without limit to stricken Japan, backed by all the resources of the United States, was ordered by President Coolidge today upon learning from American Ambassador Woods at Tokio that 1,000,000 Japanese are homeless and facing starvation.

Instructions to spare no expense in purchasing supplies and organizing relief forces were sent to Admiral Anderson, commander of the Asiatic Fleet, in the following message by Secretary Denby: "Direction of the President you are authorized to purchase whatever supplies and make whatever expenditures necessary for relief. Give all possible aid."

The president, who is due to arrive at Yokohama tonight on his flagship, the cruiser Huroon, will commit the United States to foot the bill for relief on a vast scale.

INSTANT ACTION
The president decided that instant action was imperative without canvassing the question of his authority to pledge the resources of the nation in the absence of Congress. He does not doubt that Congress will approve his action and vote the funds necessary to pay for the supplies purchased and relief organized by Admiral Anderson.

With the Red Cross, also in the light of the report from Ambassador Woods, removing the limit from the $5,250,000 relief fund it has set out to raise, America was ready to react to the scene of the earthquake disaster with aid on a large scale from the outside world.

OTHER SHIPS ON WAY
The Shipping Board's freighter City of Spokane, which arrived at Yokohama yesterday with refugees from the Philippines, is due at Yokohama Saturday.

PLANS SPEEDED UP
The executive committee of the American Red Cross in session here today in speeding plans for the raising of the $5,000,000 relief fund for the stricken Japanese took the following action:

(1) Informed all local Red Cross chapters throughout the United States that in view of the urgent need of the earthquake sufferers and the response that is sure to be made to the appeal by a sympathetic American people, $5,000,000 be regarded as a minimum amount.

(2) Notified all local Red Cross chapters that it was the hope of the executive committee that the $5,000,000 goal would be reached by next Monday, if not earlier.

(3) Urged that in accordance with the request to the American people of President Coolidge that the American Red Cross be made a clearinghouse for the collection of all funds to be sent to Japan; that all fund raising for the stricken Japanese be concentrated through the American Red Cross to prevent overlapping.

NEED QUICK ACTION
Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover, attending this morning's meeting, stressed the necessity of raising the $5,000,000 by next Monday. Acting Chairman James J. Fawcett of the American Red Cross informed the committee that local Red Cross chapters throughout the United States are bending every effort to exceed the quotas allotted them.

The machinery of the purchasing and shipping department of the American Relief Association taken over by the Red Cross was working at top speed. It was reported to the committee, in order that supplies might be rushed to the stricken Japanese, that the purchase of supplies with the funds already available is under way on a large scale and shipments starting immediately.

The American people, North, East, West and South, are responding to the appeal of the Red Cross to contribute a minimum of $5,000,000 to the relief of the stricken Japanese. Commercial, industrial and fraternal bodies are organizing to get behind the local Red Cross chapters.

JAPAN SLOWLY EMERGES FROM RUINS OF QUAKE

Deaths of Seventy Foreigners Considered Large Ratio; Order Being Restored

(BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS)
LONDON, Sept. 6.—The appalling nature of the Japanese earthquake, fire and tidal wave, with the greatest loss of life and property of any similar catastrophe in modern times, continues to be told by meager and unconnected press dispatches and private messages from foreign residents and tourists who survived the holocaust.

But Europe still awaits the graphic story of how the earth shook to pieces and then consumed in flames Japan's capital and scores of towns around Tokio Bay, including the great commercial port of Yokohama.

The loss of life is estimated at several tens of thousands of Japanese, that any certainty of the casualties is impossible while communication with the devastated districts remains so little.

NEWS IS BRIGHTER
On the whole, the news received today from Tokyo and Yokohama were not so gloomy as the disaster, one authoritative message from a British naval official at Yokohama placed the death of foreigners in that port at seventy.

Even this number, which is small as compared with first reports of a large for a foreign colony of a few thousand and indicates that the loss of life among the native population may reach the highest reported figures.

The only official estimate is based on Home Office information from Tokio that the loss of life there was 30,000, but Yokohama is known to have suffered much more severely than the capital city and the Home Office figures do not attempt to take into consideration the 100 miles of coast line where villages in the path of the tidal wave.

NOT WHOLLY DESTROYED
All available information shows that Tokyo and Yokohama were not totally destroyed, the foreign residential district of the port city, which is on a high bluff overlooking the bay, having suffered comparatively little damage, while the residential suburban districts of Tokio also escaped serious damage.

The destruction of Tokio extends over two-thirds of the metropolitan district of fifteen wards with the low-lying districts now completely wiped out. These include the slums of Fukugawa, the industrial section of Honjo, and the right bank of the Sumida River; Asakusa, famous for its amusement parks; Kyobashi and Nishi-Shinjuku, which include most of modern Tokio where four- or five-story department stores and office buildings lined the principal thoroughfare, the Ginza.

The section also includes Tama, in which, before Japan was completely opened to the western nations, foreigners were compelled to reside. It recently has been occupied principally by military and naval establishments and their schools and hospitals. During the summer most of the Tama residents are out of the city, but the loss of property there has been heavy.

DAMAGED BY FIRE
In other sections of Tokio—Asakusa, Shiba, Akasaka, Yotsuya and the Phlegion, where the foreigners live in more or less isolated foreign compounds consisting of a few western style houses built on fireproof foundations, the damage was less, which, on account of the number of open spaces, could be controlled. The foreign embassies and legations, however, were scattered throughout the higher districts of Tokio and a number of them, including the American Embassy, have been destroyed.

The British Foreign Office tonight received its first news from its representatives in Japan in a message reporting that the Japanese staff were safe but that the building was uninhabitable, necessitating relocation.

Other messages received by the London agents of Japanese companies state that Tokio's "sky scraper" district escaped destruction. It is known as Marunouchi and is situated between the Central

Harry Haldeman Heads Commerce Chamber Committee in Campaign for $250,000

While hundreds of sympathizers of temblor-stricken Nippon poured contributions to a total of $4000—making $15,404.76 the full amount received to date—into The Times' Japanese Fund yesterday, 250 leaders in Los Angeles civic and industrial life in a meeting at the Elks Cafe, took the first steps in a campaign which is expected to bring more than a quarter of a million dollars to the relief of the devastated nation.

This meeting was sponsored by the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce and to this committee of 250, working in co-operation with the American Red Cross, was voluntarily given the direction of the proposed relief activities.

At the conference, the first move following the usual preliminary discussion, was the selection of a leader. Here the name of Harry Haldeman was presented; it was accepted unanimously because of his success in previous campaigns.

Mr. Haldeman at once made the following appointments: Harold Jones, director of publicity; Willis H. Brown of Marwick, Mitchell & Co., director of auditing and banking; Dr. J. Whitcomb Brounger, director for the Ministerial Association and the Federa-

Never in the history of the world has the life of the family as a social unit been menaced as it is today. Social unrest, the independence afforded women by equal rights with men, all of these are perfectly justified if not shown and women have the health and strength to carry out their obligations in these matters. But when a woman is almost at the point of breaking down from her household cares and social life, to break down from lack of strength, neglect of the health, because of overwork. ## I WON'T FIGHT WILLS"—SAYS DEMPSEY

NEGRO'S LEGAL ACTION GETS CHAMP RILED UP

Colored Scrapper Will Never Get a Chance at Ring Title While Jack Dempsey Wears It

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
MARATOGA SPRINGS (N. Y.) Sept. 6.—Harry Wills, challenger for the world's heavyweight championship, never have a chance to win the title while Jack Dempsey remains champion. The titleholder made this declaration tonight after receiving word that Paddy Mullins, manager of Wills, had filed legal action in an attempt to stop the Dempsey-Firpo fight at New York, September 14.

Manager Kearn's explained the declaration by saying Dempsey was ready to enter the ring tomorrow and that he did not care to risk the danger of having the champion become too finely drawn. The champion displayed characteristic speed and aggressiveness in his boxing, but the workout was rather disappointing because of the inclination of his sparring partners to "get on their bicycle" which, Dempsey explained, means to run away. Dempsey boxed two rounds each with Farmer Lodge and George Godfrey, giving them only thirty seconds rest between rounds. Lodge wished that he could have fought for an hour between the two rounds he faced the champion, because of the rough voyage in the first. As soon as they came out of their corners, Dempsey smashed Lodge with a left hook to the chin, sending him spinning to the ropes. Thereafter the big Minnesota heavyweight clinched and held, tugging and mauling the champion around the ring. On one occasion, Dempsey, crouching and weaving, pursued Lodge into the ropes, caught him with a left hook, then turned him around with a jerk and landed with a vicious right.

GODFREY SUFFERS
Dempsey set a furious pace for the two rounds with Godfrey, landing

Suit to Halt Title Battle Is Continued

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—The next step in an attempt by Harry Wills, negro heavyweight title contender, to throw legal entanglements in the path of the Jack Dempsey-Luis Angel Firpo match, will be taken tomorrow morning when an order requiring the State Athletic Commission to show cause why the bout should not be enjoined, is returnable in Supreme Court. William Klein, attorney, emphasized today that the action was directed solely at the State Athletic Association and not against Tex Rickard, promoter of the Firpo-Dempsey match, which is scheduled at the Polo Grounds on September 14.

Coltroth Is Anxious to Sign Up Wills

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—Jim Coltroth, owner of the Tijuana race track arrived in New York, determined to bring the Wills-and-Dempsey bout back to his plant. Coltroth's racing season begins on Thanksgiving Day and he plans to put on Wills and Dempsey, or perhaps Firpo and Wills, at his track on the Saturday following December 1.

James Outram Anderson, ace of Australian tennis team, has won twenty-eight championships. He is 28 years of age and has been playing since 1914.

Zenzo Shimidzu to Again Try for Championship

Fukuda, Japanese Title Holder, Also Seeks Glory

Seichiro Kashio Expected to Create Excitement

BY WILLIAM T. THIDEN,
Tennis Champion of the World, 1920-21; Champion of America, '20, '21 and '22

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 6.—I wish Kipling had never written "East is East and West is West," etc. Every year when I set out to write of our Japanese tennis friends I feel compelled to quote this poem. But this year I'll leave Kipling alone and merely introduce, among the stars in our national tennis championship, Zenzo Shimidzu, Masanobu Fukushima and Seichiro Kashio, representatives of Nippon and sportsmen extraordinary.

Shimidzu is an old-established favorite. His game is too well known to need much description now. The bob of his head on his forehead drive is almost as familiar as his famous grin and little white hat. But the discussion still rages as to which side of the racket Shimidzu hits his forehead drive on, so to settle that point I will state with authority, said authority being no less a person than Shimidzu himself, that it comes off the same side of the strings as his backhand shot. In other words, his drive comes off the other side from the one it should come from, by all the known laws of swinging a tennis racket with Shimidzu's grip. If you don't believe me, go out and watch him—and you'll wear him wrong. I thought the other way until he told me so himself.

Shimidzu was ill in the early summer, suffering from a severe attack of whooping cough, but August found him again in the game and improving with every match. He was far from his best until the Japanese-Australian Davis Cup match, but this competition

Angelano Wins Feature Race at State Fair

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 6.—The annual Governor's Day racing at the State Fair today brought out the best performances seen on the local track since 1908. The first event, the Governor's stake, was hotly contested in all three heats, four horses in the race being almost even at the wire at the end of each lap. Merry Miles, driven by her owner, L. C. Moore of Riverdale, won the first heat in 2:08 1/4. The next two heats and the race were taken by S. H. Cowell's trotter, Angelano. Walter Tryon up, being each trotted in 2:08 1/4. Merry Miles took second money, with Janet McKillop placing third.

Charles F. Silva's Easter Band of Sacramento, driven by his trainer, L. V. Daniels, took the free-for-all pace in straight heats, pacing the first one in 2:04 1/4, which is the fastest time recorded on a California track during the past five years.

Fidel LaBarba Too Fast for Henry Garcia

Allegrini Stages Rally and Noses Out Burke

At the L.A.A.C. battle doing last night, Julius Jessick carried off the honors in the main bout by trimming Johnny De Rita in easy fashion. Jessick was too clever for his man. De Rita showed gamehood, a fast that pulled him through the three rounds. A number of times during the fracas Jessick had De Rita in a bad way. Eddie Gleason knocked out Sailor Estrella in the first round, Estrella substituted for Nat Scott. Ned Golden took the decision over Sailor Toomey, but an extra round had to be fought. To make the choice. The crowd bowed the verdict, thinking Toomey had won. Toomey had the first round. The second was even. Gleason evaded matters in the third and won in the fourth. A good-sized crowd was present. Eugene Henry proved too good for Clayton Kirby, whom he knocked out in the third round. Kirby showed great gamehood, but Henry was too big and strong for him. Vincent Peete scored a sleep-inducer over Yarns Chute in the second session. Chute was downed three times in this round before he struck his colors. Al Leonard kept up the knock-out work by disposing of Elmer Jougens in three rounds. Jougens was bringing on the ropes a crumpled mass when the referee stopped the bout. Just before this Jougens had visited mother, always six straight times. Tub Henry quit to Jack Fields in the second round.

FEAR FOR SAFETY OF TWO YACHTS

Spindrift and Viking IV, Local Craft, Long Overdue in Race From Honolulu

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
SANTA BARBARA, Sept. 6.—Officials of the Santa Barbara Yacht Club today expressed apprehension over the Viking IV and Spindrift, two entrants in the Santa Barbara-Honolulu race, which have been overdue for a week on the return trip of the long-distance sailing contest. The two vessels sailed from Honolulu on August 8. The Mariner and the Diablo, the two entrants to finish the return trip, reached the mainland on August 24 and 25, respectively. The Spindrift with a handicap of six hours over the Diablo should have reached port, local yachtsmen assert, within a day or two after the arrival of the Diablo, while the Viking IV would have been due not later than August 29. The anxiety here is increased by the reports of weather conditions in mid-Pacific, brought to Santa Barbara by Carl Miller, skipper of the Diablo. Miller asserted on his arrival in Santa Barbara Harbor that for four days the Diablo had fought a half gale and that throughout the trip the winds ranged from fresh to half gales. For nearly a week the Diablo came through with double-reefed mainmasts, because of high winds. The Mariner reported a like experience on the coast where, too, fought half gales throughout the cruise. When the Viking was last sighted by the Diablo she was stumbling along through high seas and shipping green water at every dip, Miller said.

WRANGELL ISLE TAKES ITS TOLL

Last Days of Explorers in North Are Told

One Dies Terrible Death of Hunger and Cold

Three Believed Lost Amid Arctic Wastes

me her story—probably the saddest story I had ever heard. The expedition landed in high spirits on September 16, 1921, and erected the first camp about four miles east of Doubtful Harbor and posting the proclamation, a copy of which we had already found. Their first concern was the killing of game to supply meat for themselves and their dogs and thus save to as great extent as possible the stores which they had brought with them from Nome. There were plenty of polar bears and foxes on the islands, besides seals and walrus on the floes.

They killed a considerable number of polar bears, but for some unexplained reason they had neglected to include an umiak, or walrus-hide boat, in their outfit, and consequently were unable to get any walrus. The latter could be seen sunning themselves on the ice cakes, but out of range, and the heavy dory which they had brought was of no use in navigating waters filled with floating ice cakes. So they were forced to stand impatiently on the beach and see tons of food just beyond their reach.

However, they were able to get some seals and with the polar bear meat which they already had they felt secure for the winter, for they had brought sufficient food with them to do a year at a pinch. But while they waited for sufficient snow to enable them to transport their polar bear meat to camp the greater part of it was eaten by foxes and bears. Thus, by November 16, after only two months' stay on the island, they ran entirely out of meat and were forced to share the provisions which they had brought from outside with the dogs.

FOOD IS SHORT

The winter darkness was coming on and further hunting was difficult. They believed that they would be able to get through until spring without much hardship. But when spring came they found that most of their food had gone. About all that was left of the supplies brought with them from Nome was a certain amount of pilot bread.

They were able, however, to get more seals in the spring, and a couple of walrus that happened to come close enough to the shore for them to secure the carcasses. These, with crowberries and other birds, fox, seal and an occasional polar bear, together with remnants of the pilot bread, kept them going until the middle of the summer, when they began to look forward to the arrival of the promised relief ship.

Knights and Crawford made a number of exploring trips to various parts of the island during the year, and all did their utmost to employ their time as profitably as possible and keep up the morale of the party.

SURVIV SETS IN

They laid in what meat they could get and husbanded their resources as much as possible. On November 15, 1922, they moved their camp to Doubtful Harbor, where there was a plentiful supply of driftwood, and they would thus not need to use their fat for fuel. But as the winter dragged on its weary length their food supply grew less and less, and they saw that it would not suffice until spring.

Furthermore, lack of sufficient food of the proper kind was having its effect, and Knight, particularly, was beginning to show signs of what Ada called scurvy, but which might have been some other result of malnutrition. Something had to be done.

On January 7, 1923, in the depth of the winter's darkness, Crawford and Knight set off for the Siberian coast, little more than 100 miles distant. If they could once reach it they could probably bring back succor for their comrades. But the ice was badly broken and travel was very rough. They made a brave attempt but Crawford froze his fingers and Knight's weakened condition compelled them to return to Wrangell island after two weeks on the ice in their futile endeavor.

After allowing a week for Crawford to recuperate another attempt was made to reach Siberia. This time Crawford was accompanied by Maurer and Galle. Knight was unable to travel, and he was left in care of Ada Blackjack with all the food which could be spared from the shore party. Crawford and his companions carried their food, consisting principally of pilot bread and seal oil, on sled drawn by five dogs. They intended to continue their efforts to reach Siberia at all costs as there was little use in returning to the island. They left Ada and Knight with sufficient food to last them till spring with care and their return would only jeopardize the safety of the entire party.

Ada nursed Knight until he died on June 22. His condition had become so grave by spring that the opportunity to secure fresh food with the break up of the ice came too late.

KNIGHT IS BURIED

Knights was the only member of the party whom I had known previously and I was particularly affected as I looked upon his emaciated form laid out in the tent where Ada had left his body since his death.

We dug a grave and gave the remains of my poor pal a decent burial. I shall dwell upon the details of this scene. Of course, Ada had no more idea of the fate of Crawford and his companions than I had. She had hoped that they had reached Siberia safely.

And she was still inclined to think that perhaps some day they would turn up.

But I must confess that I could not share her belief. The boys were undoubtedly in a very weakened condition when they set out and none of them had had any previous experience of ice travel in winter time, excepting Maurer, and his experience was confined principally to one trip from the wrecked Kariuk in 1914 to Wrangell Island. Then he was a member of a large party commanded by Capt. R. A. Bartlett, an experienced Arctic traveler and fully equipped with everything required.

Therefore, I am afraid that their chance of reaching Siberia was very slim. Furthermore, I have since heard that Castella, former member of the Canadian Arctic expedition of 1913-18, who has been living for some years in Siberia, traveled all along the north coast of Siberia in June of this year, camping in native houses every night without hearing anything from the Eskimos of the missing men.

Allen Crawford, Frederick Maurer and Milton Galle, seem to have joined their pal, Lorne Knight, in that land from which no traveler returns.

Women to attract must Radiate Health!

BEAUTY is the magnet which draws all eyes—and back of beauty—Health—working silently. Red blood tingling through the veins—the glow of youth in the cheeks—the spring of eagerness, of vim, of vitality in the walk—the ever graceful air, unrestrained by care or worry—All the charms of beauty. All the charms of health.

Men are fascinated by the charms of beauty. Women gaze with envy, secretly jealous, perhaps—wondering—hoping—praying for that attractiveness that is not theirs.

But why the wondering—the hoping—the praying for that attractiveness? Good looks is the barometer of one's condition. Good health radiates beauty. S. S. S. purifies the blood—clears new red blood cells—rids the system of impurities which make beauty and attractiveness impossible. As women to attract must radiate health, must they then have a system free from impurities and their red blood cells ever increasing. S. S. S. does both.

S. S. S., since 1828, has been riding the system of impurities—pimples, blackheads, boils, eczema and rheumatism—building red blood cells—aiding women to be attractive by radiating health. S. S. S. is made of carefully selected herbs and barks, scientific ally prepared and proportioned. All good drug stores carry S. S. S. it is more economical to purchase the large size bottle.

Why California EGGS are Best

California EGGS come exclusively from commercial poultry ranches, many of which are owned and operated by college-bred people.

California hens are kept penned in, and fed on GRAIN. They are not permitted to roam about and eat refuse.

In New York City, where 10% of all the EGGS produced in the U. S. are consumed, California EGGS command a premium of from 10c to 50c.

DISCUSS POLICY OF REFORESTING

Senate Committee Holds Hearing at Bay City

Information Sought for Pending Legislation

Lawmakers Will Inspect Timber Land of North

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE) SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 6.—Formation of a legislative policy that will provide for the reforestation of all cut-over timberlands, where such reforestation is possible, was discussed today at a hearing here of the United States Senate Select Committee on Reforestation. The hearing was presided over by Senator Charles L. McNary of Oregon and other committee members present were Senators George H. Moses, New Hampshire; Fletcher, Florida, and Pat Harrison, Mississippi. Senator James Couzens of Michigan, the fifth member of the committee, was not present.

The hearings are being held by the committee to aid the Senate in its consideration of pending reforestation legislation and the collateral features of taxation and fire fighting and other conservation elements. It is hoped to frame a reforestation policy that will call for a perpetual timber supply. John W. Blodgett, director of the National Lumber Manufacturers' Association, and Col. W. B. Greeley, head of the United States Forest Service, were present to give evidence of the reforestation and conservation need.

TO INSPECT TIMBER The committee will leave tonight for Portland. Before returning to Washington it will visit the fir country of Washington State and the western pine districts of Eastern Washington, Idaho and Montana.

C. H. Johnson of the Union Lumber Company testified that lumber companies are being taxed by the government for trees that will not be timber producers for fifty years, and that such taxes were prohibitive. E. Pillsbury, vice-president of the Willamette Paper Company, testified that the expense of planting and cultivating trees made reforestation not feasible.

MAN BEATS NATURE Maj. David T. Mason, representing redwood interests in Humboldt and other counties disagreed with Pillsbury, and said that the reforestation system used in the northern counties "is beating nature." The United States has done no reforestation work since 1916, Paul G. Redington, district United States forester in California, testified. He said fighting fires was costing the government 1 1/2 cents an acre for the 19,000,000 acres of forest land in California.

William N. Wheeler, president of the California Forest Protective Association, urged the government to repeal all legislation calling for the taxing of growing trees.

Youthful-Aged Gland Patient Dies Suddenly

(BY CABLE-EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH) LONDON, Sept. 6.—Arthur Evelyn Lardet, one of the first and most successful patients to undergo Dr. Serge Voronoff's monkey gland operation for rejuvenation, died Monday in London. His period of renewed youth lasted two years. In 1920, when he was 72 years of age, Mr. Lardet was bald, walked with a faltering step, his face was wrinkled and his cheeks flabby. Dr. Voronoff operated and grafted a monkey gland in him and in less than a year his hair was growing, his face firm, his skin soft and he walked firmly. He astonished doctors who examined him. His collapse was sudden.

BUSINESS NEWS OF BUSY MARTS

Miner's Life Is Just One Day Off After Another

Southern Pacific Reduces Its California Oil Holdings

Metal Values; Selling Plan of New Bond House

Forty-six days out of the year the coal miner rests in observance of holidays, asserts the anthracite operators in answer to the argument advanced by the mine that wages should be raised because of the small number of working days in the mine. The vacations are taken by the men themselves against the wishes of the operators, who would like to see the mines worked continuously. With the exception of Sundays. Elimination of these off days would materially increase the annual income of the workers, according to mine owners, and would prevent much of the recurring wage troubles. The Wall Street Journal submits the following list of the holidays observed by the anthracite miners:

January 1—New Year's Day.
January 2—Epiphany.
January 3—Martin Luther King's Birthday.
January 4—Washington's Birthday.
January 5—Lincoln's Birthday.

January 28—Washington's Birthday.
January 29—Lincoln's Birthday.
January 30—Washington's Birthday.
January 31—Lincoln's Birthday.

In addition to the above, many days are lost at all mines by button strikes, days off after pay day, funerals, picnics, etc. In 1921, according to report of the United States Geological Survey, anthracite miners worked an average of 271 days. Working that many days, the miners had ninety-four off days, and deducting from this number the fifty-two Sundays and the average eight holidays usually enjoyed, would leave thirty-four days that must have been taken off by the men themselves. Based upon the figures, it would seem that the holidays above enumerated must have been pretty generally observed.

ESSEE PROFITS
Through the proposed redemption of its $4,844,000 first mortgage bonds, which will be accomplished by the sale of the $24,600,000 twelve-year 6 per cent notes, Oatman, Leach & Co., the Associated Oil Company will pay $5,017,000 in cash to the Southern Pacific Company, which owns all but 87,000 of the issue.

After the receipt of the Associated Oil money, the Southern Pacific will have only one investment in the California oil fields, consisting of $3,500,000 of the $10,000,000 stock outstanding of the Associated Petroleum Company.

SELLING BONDS
J. H. Corbin of the firm of J. H. Corbin & Co., believes that the function of the dealer in investment securities is to handle only those bonds traded in on the open market so that the bond investor can be guided in his commitments by competent advisory authorities. Mr. Corbin's new investment house is founded on this principle, he said yesterday, and the business will obtain its profits from the regular commissions on buying and selling bonds, and not through participation in syndicate underwritings.

The firm, according to Mr. Corbin, will direct its efforts for the present in the purchase and sale of short-term bonds in observance

World Traders as Home Missionaries; Intimate View of Business Conditions

BY CHAPIN HALL

The World Traders of Los Angeles have accomplished a very worth while thing in bringing about the manufacture and production of the film, "The Port of Golden Opportunity," shown for the first time at Philharmonic Auditorium Wednesday evening. This picture is given wide circulation its retrospective effect is bound to be highly beneficial. It presents tersely the marvelous record of growth which Los Angeles has enjoyed during the past decade, the statistics being interspersed with visual evidence more impressive even than the figures, most of which are as large as to be difficult to retain in memory.

The film should be seen by every resident of the South West for it is impressive in its revelation of the magnitude of industrial, and commercial Los Angeles and in the unfolding of its manifold port into one of the greatest in the world, a port, in very fact, "of golden opportunity."

Responding, at the conclusion of the showing, to insistent demands for the author, Mr. Wedgwood said that it was his ambition to write and produce a feature of about ten reels which will adequately portray the historical as well as the physical growth of Southern California. Such a story, he said, is filled with marvelous opportunity for impressive pageantry based upon facts and would be a constant inspiration to those who live here as well as the untold thousands who ultimately follow the star which guides the Empire of Destiny on the shores of the Sunset Sea.

WHO THEY ARE
The World Traders of Los Angeles was organized in 1919 by a group of business men interested in world trade, and desirous of furthering the development of Los Angeles and its off shore trade. Since its organization it has become an active force in the commercial life of the community, its influence gradually extending to all parts of the world.

It is the purpose of the organization to foster and encourage world trade and commerce; to establish friendly relations with the representatives, the business men and the business interests of the city of Los Angeles, the State of California and the United States of America; to promote the convenience of its members and generally to secure to them the benefit of co-operation in the furtherance of their various business interests; to acquire, to preserve and to disseminate valuable business information relating to the markets of the world, and to exploit and uphold the reputation and quality of the various products; to demand just and equitable dealings between American merchants and those of other countries.

The membership of World Traders manufacturers (producers, canners, packers, industrial, etc., merchants, exporters, importers, and shippers, etc.); bankers (financial institutions); transportation (steamship, railroad, truck, etc.); foreign trade specialists; marine insurance, admiralty lawyers, customs brokers, freight forwarders, harbor engineers, industrial counselors, advertising, etc.) whose concerted efforts are directed to bringing about a realization of Los Angeles and its environs through the port of Los Angeles for continuous economic advance.

The president is Maurice Carasso to whose untiring efforts the membership owes its recognition and the important place in the affairs of the community the organization has already assumed.

A special meeting of the traders of the ideas advanced by Moody's Investors' Service.

METAL VALUES
Production of gold, silver, copper, lead and zinc in New Mexico during the last twenty years shows a wide fluctuation for each metal, but the gross value of the product of all five metals in 1922 was more than three times the value in 1918. The Department of the Interior announces that production for the first six months of 1923 indicates a substantial increase over 1922.

Beginning in 1912, with the first full year of operation, the output of the large-scale mining of the copper ores of Santa Rita, the value of the output of metals from New Mexico has fluctuated greatly, as shown in the figures given below:

1912-1922: $2,521,445, 1913: $19,279,445, 1914: $12,848,882, 1915: $12,848,882, 1916: $12,848,882, 1917: $12,848,882, 1918: $12,848,882, 1919: $12,848,882, 1920: $12,848,882, 1921: $12,848,882, 1922: $12,848,882.

OIL DIVIDEND
Directors of the Midway Northern Oil Company have declared the regular monthly dividend of 1 cent payable the 10th inst. to stockholders of record the 20th inst.

PERSONAL MENTION
Paul B. Hammond, executive vice-president of the Pacific Bond and Share Company, announces that A. E. Knecht, for many years associated with the Chicago office of E. H. Rollins & Sons, has been appointed assistant treasurer of the company. Miss Helen Cotton becomes assistant secretary.

John T. Cooper, vice-president of the Security Trust and Savings Bank, was yesterday elected to the directorate of the Fidelity Savings and Loan Association.

Where Demand Exceeds Supply

ACCORDING to recent government statistics, 3-5 of the timber supply of the United States is already exhausted and at the present rate of consumption over four times as much timber is used as is grown annually.

In the light of these facts, the 24,000-acre forest of the DOLLAR PORTLAND LUMBER COMPANY in Lynn and Lane Counties, Oregon, constitutes a great and growing asset, steadily increasing in value and importance.

DOLLAR PORTLAND LUMBER COMPANY

First Mortgage 7% Serial Gold Bonds Due 1927-1941

are secured by an absolute first lien on this 1,406,980 feet of standing timber, which, together with the electrically driven saw mill on a water front site in Portland, is conservatively appraised at $3,212,222—approximately 2½ times the amount of this issue.

This great timber reserve, combined with the experienced and efficient management of the Robert Dollar Company, makes these bonds a highly attractive investment yielding an unusually generous interest rate.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Jap Issues Stronger
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Sept. 6.—A moderate recovery in the Japanese issues was the feature of today's Tokyo 6s closed 1-4 higher, Japanese 4½s, 1, and the 4s, 1½. Austrian 7s dropped 1-8 points to another new low price for the year.

Railroad mortgages, as a rule, ended in sympathy with lower stock prices. Public Service of New Jersey 5s and Brooklyn Edison 5s, up 1 and 1½ points respectively, were the strong spots of the public utility group. Industrial mortgages showed mixed changes. United States government bonds held steady, the fluctuations being limited to less than 1-8 of a point.

The prompt closing of the subscription books on the $55,000,000 offering of Argentine short-term 6 per cent notes was construed as an indication that there were plenty of funds available for investment throughout the country.

In an attempt to rescue Dr. Brown, a physician who was lost in the mountains from many towns, Indian scouts and airplanes are being used. The doctor is found within twenty-four hours. He disappeared Tuesday.

Dr. Brown, his son, Horace, Dr. Frank Clair of Los Angeles and A. L. Holcomb and his son Compton, went to Brown's camp on a deer hunt Thursday night. They motored to the camp, traveled north into the hills, with a guide known as Mac, and shot at a hawk.

The first news of the disappearance of the doctor was received yesterday noon by his brothers, Ernest H. Breesee and D. W. Breesee, at the Breesee undertaking parlors, 355 South Figueroa street, from Dr. Clair. The message stated that at first no anxiety was felt for his safety as he is an experienced woodsman and made annual hunting trips to the mountains.

ACCIDENT FEARED

Later the party became alarmed and a search was instituted. Now met with serious injury. Richardetta, son-in-law of M. A. Brown, and Harold Record, accompanied by W. H. Hise and Fred Rich, employees of the undertaking firm, left Los Angeles yesterday morning in a fully equipped touring car to supervise the search. Dr. Rich and others are waiting for Brown near Brown's Station to accompany them.

They will come into the interior. Rangers will come into the country from Porterville. Harry Smith, chief criminal deputy sheriff, is to conduct a search with thousands which have proved their worth in trailing.

The Sheriff of San Bernardino county has organized a searching party to be led by two Indians, known throughout Southern California as man hunters. A government airplane was to leave San Bernadina last night for the moun-

"I am afraid the doctor fell over cliff or was injured by a wild animal," said E. H. Brees last night. "He was well acquainted with the country, and I do not believe he could lose his way."

"I would go into the field myself, but an illness left me with a weakened heart and I can't do it now," he said. "The country is wholly unfamiliar to me, but I understand it is of the most rugged character."

Dr. Bruce has offices in the Los Angeles Railway Building and has practiced medicine in Los Angeles
